Memorandum and Order

This matter is before the Court upon review of a civil complaint and request for leave to proceed in forma pauperis, filed by plaintiff Joseph Michael Devon Engel, prison registration number 1069055.<sup>1</sup> The Court denies Engel's request and dismisses this action without prejudice to the filing of a fully-paid complaint.

Background

On September 3, 2020, Engel began filing civil actions pro se in this Court, each time seeking leave to proceed in forma pauperis. His first case, a petition for habeas corpus relief under 28 U.S.C. § 2254, was dismissed on December 14, 2020 due to his failure to exhaust available state remedies. Engel v. Payne, No. 4:20-cv-1211-DDN, ECF No. 8 (E.D. Mo. Sept. 3, 2020). Subsequently, he began filing prisoner civil rights complaints pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. For the most part, he submitted his pleadings in bulk, and stated he intended each set of pleadings to be docketed as an individual civil action.

In many of his complaints, Engel listed numerous entities and officials identified only by generic job titles, and sought trillions of dollars in damages against them based upon wholly conclusory and nonsensical allegations. See, e.g., Engel v. Corizon, No. 4:20-cv-1695-NAB (E.D. Mo. Nov. 30, 2020) (listing 45 defendants on handwritten notes included with complaint); Engel v. COI, No. 4:20-cv-1923-HEA (E.D. Mo. Dec. 20, 2020) (naming 49 defendants but none by a first and last name). Engel often sought forms of relief that were unrelated to his claims (such as stocks, properties, outfitted luxury vehicles, and college scholarships) from multiple defendants and non-parties, and he sought relief on behalf of individuals other than himself. See e.g., Engel v. COI, et al., No. 4:20-cv-1620-NCC (E.D. Mo. Nov. 9, 2020) (seeking scholarships for family members, Missouri farmland for marijuana cultivation, and Mercedes SUVs that are “bulletproof” and “bombproof”); Engel v. USA, No. 4:20-cv-1742-MTS (E.D. Mo. Dec. 1, 2020) (seeking 250 trillion dollars and 2 million in stocks of twenty-three listed countries); and Engel v. Mercy Hospital Festus, No. 4:20-cv-1911-AGF (E.D. Mo. Dec. 11, 2020) (seeking 8900 trillion dollars plus 10 million stocks in various metals, gems, food products, and U.S. and foreign currencies). Engel repeatedly referred to (and appeared to partially base his entitlement to relief upon) his alleged status as a “sovereign citizen.” See e.g., Engel v. Governor of Missouri, No. 1:20-cv-217-HEA (E.D. Mo. Oct. 7, 2020).

The cases that were reviewed pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2) were dismissed, either for one of the reasons articulated therein<sup>2</sup> or because Engel failed to comply with Court orders. In <sup>2</sup> For example, in many of Engel’s actions, the Court determined his allegations were “clearly baseless” and therefore factually frivolous under the standard articulated in Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25, 31 (1992), and also determined many complaints were subject to dismissal as malicious based upon the nature of his pleadings and his abusive litigation practices. See e.g., Engel v. Prob. & Parole of Mo., No. 4:20-cv-1740-DDN, Doc. 5 at p. 6 (E.D. Mo. dismissed Dec. 22, 2020) (listing twenty-nine of Engel’s cases naming Missouri Department of Corrections as a defendant); Engel v. Corizon, No. 4:20-cv-1812-NAB, Doc. 4 at pp. 8-9 (E.D. Mo. dismissed Jan. 6, 2021) (discussing Engel’s litigation practices as part of an attempt to harass named defendants and not a legitimate attempt to vindicate a cognizable right).

Engel v. Missouri Courts, No. 4:20-cv-1258-SPM (E.D. Mo. Sept. 15, 2020), the Honorable Henry Edward Autrey cautioned Engel to avoid the practice of repeatedly filing frivolous and malicious complaints. Judge Autrey explained that doing so amounted to abusive litigation practices and could affect Engel's future eligibility to proceed in forma pauperis as well as potentially subject him to sanctions. Nevertheless, Engel continued the practice. As of December 21, 2020, he was subject to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g). In cases filed after that date, Engel was denied leave to proceed in forma pauperis pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g), and his cases were dismissed without prejudice to the filing of a fully-paid complaint.

As of December 31, 2020, Engel had filed more than 130 civil actions. Additionally, the Court has received civil rights complaints that were filed by prisoners other than Engel but were in Engel's handwriting and contained allegations and prayers for relief similar to those he asserted in actions he filed on his own behalf. See e.g., Herron v. ERDCC et al., No 4:21-cv-527-NAB (E.D. Mo. May 3, 2021). Finally, on June 9, 2021, Engel filed five new civil complaints pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 on his own behalf, including the one at bar. These new complaints mirror the ones described above. In sum, Engel has flagrantly disregarded this Court's prior caution to avoid engaging in abusive litigation practices.

The Complaint

Engel filed the instant complaint on or about June 9, 2021 pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 against the Missouri Department of Corrections ("MDOC"), an Unknown Sergeant or Lieutenant Gray, and the Missouri Eastern Correctional Center ("MECC"). Doc. 1 at p. 1. Engel identifies himself by name, and as "Sovereign Citizen Missouri." He asserts that he is filing the lawsuit "on behalf of Ms Goude ex caseworker for MECC." According to Engel, Unknown Gray, an employee at MECC, acted unprofessionally towards her former co-worker Ms. Goude when she yelled at

Ms. Goude “within inches of her face,” snatched books out of her hands, and slammed the food port door. Engel describes the incident as an assault and he seeks damages “all to go to Ms. Goude.” Engel describes the injuries as: “civil rights, civil liberty rights, prisoner rights, PTSD, Physical Rights, Mind Raping.” As relief, he seeks “650 Million Dollars Plus 500 Stocks in ABC, MSNBC, CBS, CNN, Fox, HBO, Cinemax, and Max 401K all for Ms. Goude.” Id.

On a letter attached to the complaint, Engel complains that he is “being denied all [his] legal work” and access to the law library, and that MECC will not let him buy enough stamps. Doc. 1-2 at p. 1. He does not want his “good cases” to be “thrown out” by the Court due to his failure to respond. However, Engel does not provide any evidence of a missed Court deadline or a case being dismissed due to a lack of postage for mailing. He further avers that he is being denied medical treatment for a “hariona” (which the Court interprets as a hernia), low sugar problems, and back problems. Again, however, Engel does not allege he sought medical care from any prison official or other individual.

Discussion

As discussed above, Engel is a prisoner who, while incarcerated, has filed at least three civil actions that were dismissed on the grounds that they were frivolous, malicious, or failed to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.<sup>3</sup> The Prison Litigation Reform Act of 1996 provides, in relevant part:

[i]n no event shall a prisoner bring a civil action . . . under this section if the prisoner has, on three or more prior occasions, while incarcerated or detained in any facility, brought an action . . . in a court of the United States that was dismissed on the grounds that it is frivolous, malicious, or fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, unless the prisoner is under imminent danger of serious physical injury.

28 U.S.C. § 1915(g). “A prior dismissal on a statutorily enumerated ground counts as a strike even if the dismissal is the subject of an appeal.” Coleman v. Tollefson, 135 S. Ct. 1759, 1763 (2015). Therefore, Engel may proceed in forma pauperis in this action only if he “is under imminent danger of serious physical injury.” 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g). The instant complaint contains no allegations establishing that Engel is under imminent danger of serious physical injury. Therefore, he may not proceed in forma pauperis in this action. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g).

Even if Engel could proceed in forma pauperis in this matter, the complaint would be dismissed. Standing is a jurisdictional requirement that can be raised by the court sua sponte at any time during the litigation. Delorme v. U.S., 354 F.3d 810, 815 (8th Cir. 2004). Generally, to satisfy the standing requirement, a plaintiff “must assert his own legal rights and interests, and cannot rest his claim to relief on the legal rights or interests of third parties.” Warth v. Seldin, 422 U.S. 490, 499 (1975). A non-attorney, self-represented litigant (like Engel) may not represent someone else in federal court. See 28 U.S.C. § 1654 (stating that in all United States courts, “the parties may plead and conduct their own cases personally or by counsel”); Iannaccone v. Law, 142 F.3d 553, 558 (2d Cir. 1998) (stating that “because pro se means to appear for one’s self, a person may not appear on another’s behalf in the other’s cause. A person must be litigating an interest personal to him.”); Lewis v. Lenc–Smith Mfg. Co., 784 F.2d 829, 830 (7th Cir. 1986) (stating that non-lawyers may only represent themselves because “an individual may appear in the federal courts only pro se or through counsel”). As such, Engel has no standing to bring claims on behalf of Ms. Goude.

Furthermore, Engel’s allegations in his attached letter do not permit the inference that he was confined in conditions that were sufficiently serious to pose a substantial risk of serious harm or deny him “the minimal civilized measure of life’s necessities,” Farmer v. Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 834 (1994), or that any individual actually knew of and yet deliberately disregarded any serious medical need, as necessary to state a plausible Eighth Amendment claim. The complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted against MDOC and the MECC, because they are not “persons” that can be sued under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, see Will v. Michigan Dept. of State Police, 491 U.S. 58, 71 (1989), and Engel’s claims against them would be barred by the doctrine of sovereign immunity. See Webb v. City of Maplewood, 889 F.3d 483, 485 (8th Cir. 2018). Engel’s allegation of entitlement to relief based upon his status as a “sovereign citizen” is frivolous. See United States v. Hart, 701 F.2d 749, 750 (8th Cir. 1983); see also United States v. Benabe, 654 F.3d 753, 761-67 (7th Cir. 2011) (describing the conduct of a “sovereign citizen” and collecting cases rejecting the group’s claims as frivolous, and recommending that “sovereign citizen” arguments “be rejected summarily, however they are presented.”).

Finally, the Court also dismisses this action because it appears to be malicious. See Spencer v. Rhodes, 656 F. Supp. 458, 461–63 (E.D.N.C. 1987), aff’d 826 F.2d 1061 (4th Cir. 1987) (an action is malicious when it is undertaken for the purpose of harassing the defendants rather than vindicating a cognizable right). As stated above, Engel has filed over 130 other complaints in this Court alleging that his civil rights have been violated by these defendants and other state and local entities and officials. Engel submits the pleadings in bulk, and he specifies that he intends each set of pleadings to be docketed as an individual civil action. The nature of those pleadings and Engel’s claims for damages are roughly the same as those in the instant action. It therefore appears that this action is part of an attempt to harass these defendants and others by bringing repetitious lawsuits, rather than a legitimate attempt to vindicate a cognizable right. See Spencer, 656 F. Supp. at 461–63; see also In re Billy Roy Tyler, 839 F.2d 1290 (8th Cir. 1988) (noting that an action is malicious when it is a part of a longstanding pattern of abusive and repetitious lawsuits). This action is subject to dismissal for this reason, as well.

Engel is once again advised that his litigation practices are abusive and is cautioned to avoid such practices in the future. For each such complaint he files, the Court will instruct the Clerk of Court to begin debiting his prison account to pay the civil filing fees. Second, the practice of repeatedly filing meritless lawsuits can be interpreted as an abuse of the judicial process, which can result in court-imposed limitations on the ability to bring future lawsuits. This Court is “vested with the discretion to impose sanctions upon a party under its inherent disciplinary power.” Bass v. General Motors Corp., 150 F.3d 842, 851 (8th Cir. 1998) (citations omitted). This includes the discretion to craft and impose sanctions to deter litigants from engaging in “conduct which abuses the judicial process.” Chambers v. NASCO, Inc., 501 U.S. 32, 43-45 (1991); see also Tyler, 839 F.2d at 1292 (affirming the district court’s sua sponte determination that a litigant should be limited to filing one lawsuit per month pursuant to certain conditions precedent as a sanction for the litigant’s repeated abuse of the judicial process). These powers stem from “the control necessarily vested in courts to manage their own affairs so as to achieve the orderly and expeditious disposition of cases.” Id. (quoting Link v. Wabash R. Co., 370 U.S. 626, 630-31 (1962)).

Accordingly, the Court denies Engel’s request for leave to proceed in forma pauperis, and dismisses this case without prejudice to the filing of a fully-paid complaint. A separate order of dismissal will be entered herewith. Additionally, the Court will instruct the Clerk of Court to request that the agency having custody of Engel begin making payments in accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 1915(b)(2) until the full $402 civil filing fees are paid in full.

So Ordered this 7th day of July, 2021.
